

After a diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease:
Questions to ask the doctor

What does the diagnosis mean?

What can be expected over time?

What care will my loved one need now and in the future?

What care is available?

What treatment is available and what are its risks and benefits?

What resources are there in the community?

When should we schedule another appointment?

Whom can I contact for additional help with planning and care?
